INDIA Bloc going to get clear mandate on June 4, claims Congress

PIIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI The Congress on Friday said it is due to its positive campaign, the party guarantees giving priority to protecting the Constitution that the INDIA Bloc is going to get a "clear and decisive" mandate on June 4. Congress general secretary Jairam Ramesh, party's media and publicity secretary Pawan Khara and AICC social media department head Supriya Shrinete released a compilation of 272 questions the party asked Prime Minister Narendra Modi in the last 72 days titled "72 Days, 272 Questions, 0 Jawab? Bhaag Modi Bhaag!".

He pointed out on March 7 in Banswara, Kharge and Gandhi released the "yuva nyay" guarantees. On March 13 in Dhule, Gandhi announced "naam nyay" and the party's guarantees under it. Ramesh said, On February 23 in Ambikapur, Gandhi urged Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge announced the guarantees under "kisaan nyay". He also said the Congress made several complaints of model code violations by the BJP, including H against the PM, to the Election Commission of India. "We respect the EC but sadly impartiality was not seen during the course of the campaign," he said. Khara said the Congress campaign derailed Modi's "propaganda" and he did not tell the country what his government achieved.

guarantee to protect social justice, get a caste census done and remove the 50 per cent cap on reservation. "We believe that due to our campaign, panch nyay padchehe guarantee" and the priority we gave on protection of the Constitution as stressed by Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge, Rahul Gandhi and Prityanka Gandhi, we are going to get a clear and decisive mandate on June 4," Ramesh said. During the news conference, Ramesh also said the Congress made several complaints of model code violations by the BJP, including H against the PM, to the Election Commission of India. "We respect the EC but sadly impartiality was not seen during the course of the campaign," he said. Khara said the Congress campaign derailed Modi's "propaganda" and he did not tell the country what his government achieved.

RSS chief Bhagwat pays tributes to Ahilyabai Holkar on birth anniversary

PIIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh (RSS) chief Mohan Bhagwat on Friday remembered Ahilyabai Holkar on her 300th birth anniversary and said she was an ideal ruler who provided good governance and worked for the welfare of every section of society. In a video statement, Bhagwat said she lived a simple life despite being a queen and cared for the weak and backward. "This year marks the tercentenary of Punyashlok Devi Ahilyabai Holkar," he said and added that the "Punyashlok" title is given to rulers who free their subjects from all kinds of deprivations and sorrows. "She was widowed. Despite being a single woman, she did not only manage her big kingdom but also made it bigger and provided good governance," the chief of the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh (RSS) said. She was, in fact, one of the ideal rulers of her time, he said and added that she was a symbol of women's capabilities. Bhagwat said Holkar built industries and her subjects could get employment. "She built them (industries) so well that Maheshwar's textile industry is still running today. It provides employment to many people," he added. The RSS chief said Holkar cared for the weak and backward sections and had also eased the tax system. "She cared for farmers. Her kingdom was a good kingdom in every way," he said. "Today, we talk about the empowerment of women. Devi Ahilyabai has set before us an ideal example worth emulating. Despite being a queen she lived a simple life," he said. Bhagwat said the work she did was special in many ways. "The queen ruled efficiently and had friendly relations with all the rulers of that time, he said. She was known for her strategies that prevented attacks on her kingdom. At Akhil Bharatiya Pratinidhi Sabha held in Nagpur in March, the RSS had announced it would organise programmes to mark the 300th birth anniversary of Holkar. "Throughout this year, efforts will be made everywhere to remember her. This is a matter of great pride. I wish all the best for such an effort," Bhagwat said.

Associate of fugitive gangster detained in US

PIIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI An alleged associate of fugitive gangster Harnandu Bhatu is understood to have been detained by agencies in the United States, officials said on Friday. The agencies are trying to ascertain the identity of the detained man before any move for his return to India is initiated, the officials said. It is suspected that Sahil Kumar, who allegedly runs an extortion racket with Bhatu from abroad and is wanted by the Haryana Police in a number of cases, has been detained by the US authorities after a move to get the accused extradited or deported after the legal formalities. Kumar allegedly used passports with a fake identity and address to flee India. Cases related to extortion and threats are registered in Haryana against Kumar and Bhatu, the officials said.

said, Kumar is facing an Interpol Red Notice that requests the enforcement agencies of all the 196-member countries to detain a fugitive if spotted in their jurisdiction. The information is then passed on to the member country that had sought the issuance of the notice. This process is followed by a move to get the accused extradited or deported after the legal formalities. Kumar allegedly used passports with a fake identity and address to flee India. Cases related to extortion and threats are registered in Haryana against Kumar and Bhatu, the officials said.
